

DIFFERENT SOURCES OF FUNDING

Tried & Tested Solutions

#1

Bootstrap

'Bootstrapping' is code for self-funding & there are loads of ways this can be achieved. Get the help of good accountants in London to design a suitable business plan with well thought out forecasts to reduce the level of risk.

Innovative & Creative Solutions

#1

Crowdfund

It has low financial risk involved, means you won't need to get a loan or front up the cash yourself nor give up any equity share. Get good accountant to ensure you have a detailed business plan on how to best use the crowdfunded money if successful.

Source a Business Grant #2

With Small businesses traditionally driving economic recovery, these schemes are a great source of small business funding. The best accountants in London will help you find the right grant solution for your business needs.

Get a Peer-to-Peer Loan #2

Usually obtained via websites which link individual borrowers or businesses with savers seeking good returns on longer term investments. these schemes cut out the banking middleman. A small fee to the website and you'll need to pass credit checks and a risk assessment to be accepted on to these sites.

Find yourself an Angel Investor #3

Investment from angel is the most significant source of small business funding, with an estimated £1.5-billion invested in this way annually in the UK alone. With the help of the right accountants, you'll be able to get connected with potential angels and receive expert advice.

Invest in the Best Accountants in London #3

Looking for creative solutions to your struggles with business financing, then the best accountants will be able to provide you with a whole range of creative solutions, will be well connected with individuals and organisations seeking to invest in viable business opportunities and help you show your business is investible.

